Continue

Close up b2 test answers

Close-up b2 tests pdf. Close up b2 answers. Close up b2 workbook answers. Close up b2 mid year test answers. Close up b2 end of year test answers. Close up b2 progress test answers. Close up b2 student's book answers. Close-up b2. Close up b2 teacher's book pdf.

Vocabulary 1 Complete the sentences with these words: anxiety confdent embarrassment frustration mature reliable reliant sensitive stubborn sympathetic 1 You can’t imagine my when I finally got the results and saw I’d passed. 2 He’s quite , so make sure you don’t criticise anything he does. 3 The people I talked to were very about our problem and did their best to help. 4 My friend suffers from before exams. 5 I felt really that I’d do well in the test, but as soon as it started, I realised I was wrong. 6 Jiao is very for her age and acts more responsibly than her school friends. 7 They felt a lot of because they knew they could have played much better. 8 There was a lot caused by their silly behaviour and they had to apologise. 9 Why are you so ? You could change your mind just for once. 10 Jules won’t let you down, He’s very . 2 Complete the sentences with a preposition: 1 I was total agony after my fall. 2 I hope this course will lead to something interesting in the future. 3 Focus on being clear in the interview. 4 The film was so sad that I burst into tears. 5 The tense situation kept the audience on the edge of their seats. 6 You never know how they’ll respond to that kind of situation. 3 Choose the correct option to complete the sentences: 1 I used to eat peanut butter every day, but now I’ve completely hit it off / gone off it . 2 I think you need to chill out / get down a bit. 3 You shouldn’t stand your friends up / cheer your friends up like that. It's rude. 4 We went off / fell out over a comment he made. Grammar 4 Choose the correct option to complete the sentences: 1 Why does it get / is it getting so hot in here in the afternoons? 2 You can see that the liquid starts boiling. The home team are on the attack, with the striker shooting - it's a goal! My plane leaves at 9 a.m. tomorrow. At the end of the film, the two main characters go their separate ways. She always interrupts me when I try to tell a story. The sentences are completed with the present perfect (simple or continuous) form of the verbs: 1. You asked me the same question several times before. 2. We have been waiting for that parcel for over two weeks. 3. How many different countries have you visited? 4. You look really tired! Have you worked hard this morning? 5. I'm pleased to inform you that you passed the entrance exam. 6. I have received more and more spam in my inbox recently. My sister's a bit disappointed because she hasn't got a job yet. She has been looking for something in sales as she has been travelling. She has applied to over twenty different companies, but so far only six have replied to her. This week she has had two interviews already, but she has been feeling a bit self-conscious lately. She has been learning Spanish and German for the last two months to give herself a chance in an international company. Rewritten text with added spelling errors (SE): Which 3 bak ovir 300 yers. Ther was a festivel at teh tim and we lerned that it is only 4 every tw oyers. The mayor did a speeche and then ther were freworks. My friends piked me upo doin a river cruis aftewards, but it was 7 out doe to bad wether. Grammar 4 Choose the correct option to complete teh sentenses: 1 Wen I woke up teh sun shone / was shinig. 2 It tok me a long tim to be usd to / get usd to all teh trafic noise wen I movd to teh citi. 3 I watched / was watching teh strete parade wen I saw some frends dressed up in kostumes. 4 I usd to / wud enji the annul festivites. 5 My reletifs wud visit / wer visiting us every Sundae aftewons for tee and keks. 6 A few peopel had / wer having maks on, but not many wer wearing / usd to wearing kostumes. 7 We usd to / wud like this miks wen we were yunger. 5 Complete teh sentenses with teh past simple, past continuus or presnt perfekt form of teh verbs in brackets: 1 I (look up) teh train timiz wen you (texed). 2 Teh snow (fell) so heavili that dey (call) off teh event. 3 I (not / fnish) teh projek yet. 4 What (you / talk) to Miranda about wen I (ariv)? 5 That's where dey fyrst (hold) teh festivel. 6 I (not / see) you for agiz. Where (you / be) all dis tim? 6 Complete teh konversation with teh correct form of these verbs: be not / be (x2) call give have you / hear read A: Sorry I wen out of touch for a whil. B: That's OK. I know you wen and eksam las week, so I gues you ben busy reseently. A: Oh yes. I hav read ovir 20 books since February. I ben up playin in my band in April too becaus ther just eni efime to practis. B: Hav you herd from eni elze? A: Only Hiroto. He callid last Saturdey to invit me to plai tennis. Unless you put in lots of effort, it's like trying to catch a fish with your bare hands - it just won't happen. Come and visit me so I can catch up on your news. I'm really sorry for what happened; how can I make amends? There are so many young people we can look up to these days. My friend's always trying to draw attention to himself by telling funny stories. Some of the students didn't set a good example by always being late for class. Martin Luther King Jr. paved the way in calling for equal rights in the US. When they finally arrived, we had been waiting for nearly an hour. I was really pleased to see Greg because I hadn't seen him for ages. When I finally moved house last year, I'd been living in the same place for eight years. Tina was exhausted because she had been running all afternoon. We had just started our dinner when the fire alarm went off. How long had you known your partner before you got married? I felt really tired when I got home that evening, which was because I had worked hard all day. After I got changed, I made myself an omelette and started eating it in front of the television. Just then I realised that my phone had been ringing for the last couple of minutes, and I hadn't noticed. It was my mum, and she wanted to know how I'd been since our last conversation. By the time we finished the call, it was past midnight, so I went to bed. Ms Isibo is the young founder of a Rwandan company specialising in jewellery and accessories. Before she set up her own fashion business, she worked in urban planning in the capital for a few years. She had been trying to set up her own business but hadn't found the right opportunity until recently. Before her shop opened last year, hardly anyone knew about fashion designs made from local organic materials.